The Communists chose to limit the agreement to giving them exclusive control of the towns and cities. They ignored the requirement to give free access to the royal government forces. Some clashes with royal troops, by 1970, the situation was deteriorating rapidly. The Fatherland Front, backed by North Vietnam and Red China, began a terrorist campaign. Fatherland troops launched a civil war. They appealed to the United Nations, and the Security Council sent a commission which reported the Communists were getting help from North Vietnamese regular troops crossing the border.

Lower Life Expectancy

Life expectancy in the tropics, which account for almost half of the world's population, is lower than in northern climates due to the prevalence of disease and unsanitary conditions. In some areas, fewer than half of the children reach age 15.

CARRIED AWAY by her imagination, Karen Dagg, 4, burst into tears on seeing this "monster," created from a winning drawing she submitted in a London contest.

YOUTH ASKED FOR IT!

This column is for young people, their problems and pleasures, their troubles and fun. As with the rest of Helen Help Us!, it welcomes laughs but won't dodge a serious question with a brush off.

Send your teenage questions to YOUTH ASKED FOR IT, care of Helen Help Us! in this newspaper.

"WRITE" QUESTION, WRONG TEACHER

Dear Mrs. Bottel: Some time ago a letter appeared under the name of "Exposed," asking your opinion of my rules on notes passed in class. You did not approve of my reading her notes aloud.

I think you are treading on thin ice here and might well leave the handling of the classroom to the teacher. If I followed your suggestion and merely tore the notes up, they would continue undisturbed. I think it is important that a student attends to school work. Therefore, I either post the notes on the bulletin board, read them aloud, or notify the parents.

The girl in question got double treatment. She survived, and we are actually on good terms. — MR. K "EXPOSED'S" TEACHER

Dear Mr. K: You're the wrong teacher on the "write" question. "Exposed" came from a different town — in fact, her letter was a composite of several, all with the same problem.

And I still say making personal notes public is like forcing a student to wear his gam on his nose. There must be a better way! — H

Dear Helen: Our daughter's boyfriend recently started a job that gets him up at 3 a.m. Every morning she wakes up (sodowly) to her loud alarm, and calls him at 3:00. She is afraid he will oversleep, as his alarm clock isn't the best. What do you say to this? — DISTURBED

Dear Dist: . . . No greater love! Why don't you get this fellow a good, loud alarm clock for a New Year's present? — H

Dear Helen: Your answer to

"Corporation Wife" was good. Sometimes it's the complacency of executives' wives that push them into affairs. They blame "Business Conventions" for something that could be caused by many factors.

An executive does not rise to his position in business by wife is lonely and feels left out, but she doesn't necessarily have competition from another woman — not unless she gets even by shutting him out.

I have traveled the hard road toward the executive goal. There are many times when we would much rather be at home with our families than working late or transacting business in a distant city. A wife has tough competition from her husband's company. But if she will concentrate on helping him along, showing interest, encouraging him — and understanding his need for success — he'll spend his spare time with her. — CORPORATION MAN

Dear Helen: Corporation monkey-business can work both ways. I have discovered that my wife for several years was meeting another man in the morning after I left for work, and then would swing back and pick me up for lunch. She blamed it all on my "executive's hours," saying if I could play around she could too. But I haven't played around, nor do the majority of busy businessmen. We're too involved in making money so that our families can have so many luxuries and so much leisure they get into trouble. — A.R.C.

YOUR HELPING HAND DEPARTMENT

Dear Helen: My mother has been ill for years and is now in a nursing home. The hours are long and she would enjoy letters and cards from your readers. She is Mrs. Grace A. Schart, in care of Englewood Nursing Home, Englewood, New Jersey. Thank you. — PEGGY

Flowering Trees for Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — Chicago will be 100 flowering trees prettier, thanks to the generosity of Temple Shalom, which is observing the 100th anniversary of its founding.

Dr. Louis Binstock, rabbi of the Jewish Religious congregation, presented Mayor Richard J. Daley a $5,000 check Tuesday for buying the trees.

Dr. Binstock said the trees, one for each year of the congregation's age, will serve as a lasting "thank you" to the city.

Bob Thomas at the Movies

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-Television Writer HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Bosley Crowther of the New York Times is quitting his chore of daily film reviewing this week, and his departure is greeted with both delight and regret in the power circles of Hollywood. The delight is expressed by the film makers who bear many wounds from the uncompromising reviewer. The regret comes from the more thoughtful observers of the movie scene; they have praise for Crowther as Hollywood's conscience during his 27 years of penning film critiques for the Times.

There can be no doubt that a Crowther review could sting. Mention his name to many a producer or director and you can strike sparks. Actors seem to have a higher regard for Crowther; he seems to have been kinder to them.

No doubt Crowther enjoys his enemies. He has not succumbed to the trap that has destroyed many a critic: Becoming a personal friend of those he criticizes.

Crowther was especially adept at seeing through the composites and lack of substance of the Hollywood epics, and this is what made his name anathema with local powers. They claimed that he gave kinder treatment to foreign films.

But Crowther performed the valuable function of bringing attention to worthy movies from abroad that might otherwise have been lost amid the flood of commercial films.

He also took up other causes during his career, notably in his attacks on blacklists and film censorship. Even during his last months of reviewing he showed his capacity for stirring controversy. His attacks on the violence of such films as "Bonnie and Clyde" and "The Dirty Dozen" opened widespread discussion in the industry.

Crowther will continue to write movie pieces for the Times, concentrating on the broader aspects of entertainment. As a kind of valedictory, Putnam's has published a new book by Crowther which is a fine companion volume to his previous volumes, "The Lion's Share," a well-documented history of MGM, and "Hollywood Rajah," a scathing view of the life and times of Louis B. Mayer.

Called "The Great Films: 50 Golden Years of Motion Picture," it gives film buffs a panoramic view of the milestones of movie history and also affords insight on the critical faculties of Bosley Crowther.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP) — The year 1967 has not been the greatest in television history. It has been notable primarily because broadcasts of motion pictures originally made for theaters dominated the schedules of the three major networks, consistently attracted large audiences and generally raised hob with the popularity of TV programs which were opposite them.

Some may speculate that the popularity of old movies stems from the perennial problem in television of maintaining a steady supply of satisfying, meaningful drama. ABC's "Stage 67" which started out so optimistically in 1966 to help fill this void, limped painfully into oblivion at the season's end.

But in the past year "CBS Playhouse" did make a promising start with an occasional prestige dramatic show, although it was able to turn out only three programs during the 12-month period. The determination to develop once again original television dramas may yet prove to have been the most interesting event of the year.

The project was actually started two years ago this week when the top CBS executives had their first look at the taped production of "Death of a Salesman." They realized it would cause excitement, and decided to try to develop some original plays.

"We decided that dramas had to start at the typewriter," recalled CBS Vice President Michael Dann. "We couldn't do a weekly dramatic show. From past experience we knew that about one out of eight shows would be really good, and today a weekly series with that average couldn't last six months."

CBS set aside $500,000 for scripts, particularly earmarked for new writers. To the network's surprise, the project has had the effect of luring back to television some of its most illustrious dropouts.

"CBS Playhouse" pays $25,000 for each drama, about double the usual amount, and gives the authors all subsequent rights to the property, makes no demands as to length, is careful about the placement of commercials and signs big stars to play the leading roles.

The result was that some of the writers who had quit the medium in frustration and despair, once again became interested. Reginald Rose and Loring Mandel have had their teleplays broadcast and are working on second dramas. Tad Mosel, Gore Vidal and Paddy Chayefsky—long gone from TV — are commissioned for future productions. CBS has used up its first $500,000 and is now busily spending its second $500,000.

Recommended tonight "Casals at Marlboro," NBC, 10-11 EST, telephone hour documentary about the famous cellist.

Big Weekend for College Football

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The last big weekend of the college football season begins today, and indications are that the fan who makes a day of it in front of his television set will see passes, passes and more passes.

It will be a battle of quarterbacks all over the country as Penn State and Florida State meet in the Gator Bowl, Texas-El Paso and Mississippi clash in the Sun Bowl, North plays South in the Blue-Gray Game and East meets West in the Shrine Game.

Kim Hammond, who threw 140 complete passes for 1,991 yards and 15 touchdowns during the regular season, leads Florida State in the Gator Bowl in Jacksonville, Fla. (ABC-TV 2 p.m., EST). Ron Sellers, Hammond's favorite target, caught 70 throws for 1,228 yards and eight touchdowns.

But the Penn State passer, Tom Sherman, is no slouch either. He hit on 104 passes for 1,616 yards and 13 touchdowns during the season. Jack Curry caught 41 of them and Ted Kwalick hauled in 33.

In the Sun Bowl at El Paso, Tex., to be carried on a special network of 125 television stations, the Texas-El Paso squad has a pair of passers that rank with the best around—Billy Stevens and Brooks Dawson. They threw a total of 26 touchdowns passes this season.

Stevens threw six TD passes in a 47-17 rout of Brigham Young in one game and in the next contest, with Stevens hurt, Dawson threw six against New Mexico. The team led the country in scoring average and total offense.

Mississippi's quarterback Bruce Newell passed for 663 yards and six touchdowns during the season and also gained 793 on the ground. Tailback Steve Hindman ran for 829 yards for the Rebels.

In the Blue-Gray game at Montgomery, Ala., (CBS-TV, 2 p.m., EST) Toledo's John Schneider was picked by Coach Glenn Dobbs of Tulsa, as starting quarterback, but Sal Olivares of New Mexico State, the country's total offense leader, will get some action, too.

Gray Coach Vince Dooley of Georgia has to pick between Ronny South of Arkansas and John Scovell of Texas Tech.

In the Shrine Game at San Francisco, (NBC-TV 4:30 p.m. EST) Jimmy Raye of Michigan State will go for the East team. And for the West? Fellow name of Gary Beban will be the quarterback. Played for UCLA.

The college football season ends Monday when Alabama plays Texas A&M in the Cotton Bowl, Wyoming meets Louisiana State in the Sugar Bowl, Oklahoma plays Tennessee in the Orange Bowl and Southern Cal plays Indiana in the Rose Bowl.

UCLA Standout Player Out for Big Bowl

By JACK STEVENSON

Associated Press Sports Writer
PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Injury has claimed another University of Southern California football standout as 250-pound guard Mike Scarpace went to surgery today to repair a knee ligament torn in practice for the Rose Bowl.

Scarpace joins flanker Jim Lawrence and defensive end Jim Gunn on the sideline crew of the national champions who battle Indiana in the New Year's Day classic.

Lawrence hurt a knee in the ninth game of the season against Oregon State and Gunn suffered the same type of injury against UCLA in the finale.

Coach John McKay reported Scarpace, an All-Pacific-8 performer on offense, was hurt in a Thursday scrimmage.

One knee-injury victim will be back in action — fullback Mike Hull who was operated on early in the season after being a standout in 1966.

Scarpace was an important cog in leading sweeps and clearing the way for O.J. Simpson, the halfback who led the nation in rushing this past season. The big guard will be replaced by senior Dennis Born, a 237-

Indiana fans continued pouring into Pasadena with 7,700 expected from the Hoosier state for the game. Although Coach John Pont had declared Thursday's practice would be closed, he relented and allowed the Indiana patriots to watch.
Even the school's cheer leaders were on hand to lead yells, but today, said Pont, the workout would indeed be closed to spectators. After Saturday's drill, the team will go to a monastery to await the game.
Southern California also was to work out today and Saturday.

Boston C., Louisville to Finals

By RON RAPOPORT

Associated Press Sports Writer
Boston College, the nation's 10th-ranked team, will meet Louisville, led by All-American Westley Unself, on the final day of the New York Holiday Festival Basketball Tournament.

That was expected.
At stake will be third place in the annual ECAC event. That was not expected.

As a matter of fact, the unexpected popped up at various spots around the tournament circuit Thursday night as such powerhouses as Indiana, No. 3 in the country, and Tennessee, No. 4, were also duffed a bit.

New York City basketball, known more for developing and losing the Low Alcindors than for keeping them, enjoyed one of its finest moments at Madison Square Garden where St. John's beat Boston College for the second time this season, 60-57 and Columbia stopped Louisville 74-67.

The St. John's victory wasn't decided until the final minute when Rudy Bogard and Joe DePre put in six free throws, but it was still less nerve-wracking than the Indians' 91-90 victory in overtime earlier in the season.

"I guess they're the better team," BC Coach Bob Cousy said. "Alcindor doesn't count."
Columbia's victory was particularly satisfying, as the Lions made up a seven-point halftime deficit. Sophomore Jim McMullan scored 24 points, though Louisville's Unself topped all the scorers with 25.

Indiana's six-game winning streak came to a rule end in the All Sports Association tournament in Dallas, Tex., where Western Kentucky, 6-2, took the lead early and never lost it, winning 110-91.

Wayne Chapman scored 34 points for the winners and Rich Hendrick added 26.
Tennessee carried Iowa into overtime at the Los Angeles Classic, before losing its first five games 64-59. Baskets in overtime by Dick Jensen, Sam Williams and Ron Norman won for the Hawkeyes. Williams led the scorers with 25 points.

But the road was not so rough for some of the other Top Ten teams Friday. Fifth-ranked North Carolina beat Stanford 87-78 and Utah, No. 7, edged Oregon, 64-63 in the Far West Classic at Portland, Ore.

And in a real road game, second-ranked Houston remained unbeaten by downing Bradley 69-52 in the first round of the Rainbow Classic in Hawaii.

In other tournament action Friday, St. Francis downed Duquesne 86-83 to move in the Quaker City final in Philadelphia against Temple, which beat Wisconsin 82-80. St. Joseph's, Pa., won the Gator Bowl tourney at Jacksonville, Fla., from Washington 79-74.

The University of Connecticut beat William and Mary 51-49 in the Connecticut Basketball Classic at Storrs, Conn., and TCU beat Massachusetts 65-65. Alabama won the Mobile, Ala., Classic, downing Tulane 90-83.

Brigham Young beat Xavier of Ohio 87-75 and Virginia Tech downed Idaho State 103-76 in the All College tournament at Oklahoma City, Okla. Miami won the Hurricane Classic at Miami Beach, Fla., beating NYU 102-91.

At the Triangle Classic in Raleigh, N.C., North Carolina State beat Army 75-60 and Georgia nipped Yale 79-75.

Unitas Wins Thorpe Cup

By MURRAY OLDERMAN

NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—It would be difficult to convince the Baltimore Colts there's still truth in the old cliché, "One game doesn't make a season." But when the legend of 1967 is finally inscribed, there will be a true assessment of their achievement in losing just one game in 14—and of the incomparable performance of a 34-year-old quarterback.

He has the scars of many physical contacts and a bursitis shoulder that crimps his chief talent, throwing a football. He is also the greatest of all modern quarterbacks and has been announced today by Newspaper Enterprise Association as the winner of the 1967 Jim Thorpe Memorial Trophy.

The award signifies his rank as the outstanding player in the National Football League. To appreciate how long John Unitas has been the dominant force in pro football, note that he won his first Jim Thorpe trophy in 1957, when he was a sophomore in the NFL.

The jury for this award is composed of the 640 active players on the 16 teams, polled by NEA, and they awarded him this year's trophy with definitive tributes.

"I don't feel anyone is in a class with John this year," commented Bart Starr, the quarterback of the Green Bay Packers. "He has been superb all year and the Col's record indicates what he means to them."

Bart had been the equally impressive recipient of the Jim Thorpe trophy last year.

"No one close to Unitas," said Tommy Mason of their chief rivals and conquerors, the Los Angeles Rams.

The NFL players voted for three choices in numerical order, excluding teammates in their balloting.

"I am leaving the first place vote blank," noted Lou Michaels, his Col teammate, "because I believe John Unitas should win it."

The appreciation of Unitas by his compatriots, the men he plays with and against, has never been stronger.

Unitas' only serious competitors were his aides in the NEA all-pro backfield this year, also selected by the players:

Leroy Kelly of Cleveland.
Gale Sayers of Chicago.

Johnny will be with them in Los Angeles for the official presentation of his trophy at the all-pro party in CBS Television City, Hollywood, on Jan. 18. It will be filmed and shown nationally by CBS during halftime of the Pro Bowl game in Los Angeles on Jan. 21.

In winning this award, established in 1955 and now the most prestigious honor in professional football, Unitas added to the remarkable list of accomplishments for a man who once played sandlot football for the Bloomfield (Pa.) Rams at $7 a game.

He yielded the passing championship for 1967 to Sonny Jurgensen of the Washington Redskins, who was fourth in the voting, but he led all National League passers in percentage

The French Twist

GRENOBLE, France—(NEA) Ah, la belle France. It has the French Alps, which are truly grandiose, and it has the 1968 Winter Olympic Games, which promise to be spectacular. But ah, such planning. The Alpine skiing events, highlight of the international competition, will be held in Chamrousse. Twenty miles from Grenoble, focal city of the Games, Chamrousse sometimes got so foggy Le Grand Charles (De Gaulle) would have trouble seeing past his nose.

Now Chamrousse would have been O.K. for the hobbsled, where you don't want the icy run to melt. Instead, that event's scheduled for Alpe d'Huez, 50 miles away, which may be the sunniest spot in the French Alps. It shines night and day, since there are eight night spots to keep that small retreat lit up. Including a Bunny Club. Alpe d'Huez, being higher up in the mountains, also has more snow, longer trails, varied terrain and you wouldn't have to worry about downhill or slalom racers disappearing into the fog and maybe landing in Italy. Ergo, it should have been the Alpine site.

Meanwhile, back on the Vercors range, west of Grenoble, they've got the jumping events slated for St. Nizier, where the wind can come up so gusty that some jumpers are worried they might land in Nice on the Riviera, 200 miles away. Which, come to think of it, might not be a bad landing, if the snow country isn't your bit. Or you could make it to Lyons, northwest of here, gateway to the French Alps, where they boast three constantly flowing currents — the Sabine and Rhone rivers, which meet there, and the Beaugerais, the latter, of course, being the wine of the region.

Chamrousse, newest of the ski areas, is an example of why Europe develops the top skiers. The communes of France are all eligible to send entire classes there for three-week periods, where they are bunked, go to school and ski the rest of the time. And they're allowed to watch television only once a week, even if it coincides, as on this particular day, with a Brigitte Bardot TV movie, which is part of a French boy's education, too.

of completions, at 58.5. Only Jurgensen surpassed his totals of 436 attempts and 255 completions for 3,428 yards.

These figures now make Unitas the most prolific passer in pro-football history—and also the most effective, surpassing Y. A. Tittle's old records this season. In addition, every touchdown pass completed adds to the record he already holds in that career category.

This proficiency has also made Unitas the first $100,000 salaried player in pro football. A new three-year contract went into effect this season.

As the Jim Thorpe Trophy will attest, Johnny Unitas wasted no time in fulfilling the terms of his obligation to produce for the Baltimore Colts.

The final vote tabulations:
John Unitas, Baltimore, 482.
Leroy Kelly, Cleveland, 284.
Gale Sayers, Chicago, 164.
Sonny Jurgensen, Washington, 140.
Bart Starr, Green Bay, 76.
Fran Tarkenton, New York, 45.

Kentucky Derby Candidates Head Field

By TOM SALADINO

Associated Press Sports Writer
Don B., one of the West Coast's top candidates for the Kentucky Derby, heads the field at Santa Anita Saturday in the $50,000-added California Breeders' Champion Stakes. The Santa Anita race is one of four stakes to be run on the last Saturday of the year. Others are the $25,000-added Capitol Handicap at Laurel, the $15,000-added Miami Beach Handicap at Tropical, and the $10,000-added Sugar Bowl Handicap at the Fair Grounds.

Don B. figures to be the early favorite in the seven furlong race for 2-year-olds, with a probable field of 15 California-bred colts. Owned by Don B. Wood and ridden by Don Pierce, Don B. has captured seven of 11 starts. In his last outing he whipped Royal Fols by six lengths in the $70,200 Bay Meadows Juvenile Championship at 1 1/16 miles. Broad Shadows, Right or Wrong and Royal Fols are other top contenders.

Spring Double, owned by Woodside Stud, appears to be the one to beat in the seven-furlong race for 3-year-olds Capitol and has drawn top weight of 122 pounds including jockey Chuck Baltazar. The competition is expected to come from Harriet L. Ball's Navy Admiral, 117, Violet Stewart's, Gamble, 116, and A.J. McConnell's Flowers Boy, 114, in the expected field of six.

The Miami Beach Handicap for 2-year-olds expects a field of eight or 10 in the one-mile and Vergera, the American Basketball Association's second leading scorer, contributed 37 points Thursday night when Dallas edged the Indiana Pacers 127-125 on Cincy Powell's layup in overtime.

In other games, Milwaukee, leading the Circuit's Eastern Division, defeated New Orleans 115-101, Houston beat Anaheim 104-93 and Denver downed New Jersey, 119-102.

Powell hit on his clinching basket for Dallas with only 35 seconds left in overtime. The Pacers, who were paced by Bob Netolicky's 37 points, had one last try at tying the game, but Fred Lewis' jump shot bounced off the basket and the rebound was grabbed by Dallas' John Beasley.

Vergera is scheduled to leave Jan. 5 for six months of Army reserve training.
Sam Smith came off the bench in the fourth quarter and ignited a 10-point scoring burst that carried the Muskies to victory over New Orleans. Smith scored eight of the 10 points as Minnesota increased an 80-83 lead. The triumph was the Muskies' fourth straight and increased their divisional lead to 1 1/2 games over Pittsburgh.

McDaniel topped Minnesota with 26 points. Jimmy Jones was high for the Blues, also with 26.

Joe Hammond, a second stringer, starred for Houston. He got 17 of his 19 points in the decisive fourth quarter during which the Mavericks outscored Anaheim, 39-21. Art Becker led the winner with 22 points while Warren Davis was the Angels' high man with 17.

Denver used a successful fast break in the third quarter to toll past New Jersey. Larry Jones paced the winning Rockets with 31 points.

In the National Association, Cincinnati beat San Francisco 126-122 and San Diego defeated Seattle 143-125.

Oilers Won Title the Hard Way

HOUSTON (AP) — The Houston Oilers take a brief workout today and then fly to Oakland for their fourth American Football League championship game in eight years.

Four months ago practically everyone with the club would have thought such a mission impossible.

The Oilers were 3-11 cellar dwellers a year ago and many fans thought Coach Wally Lemm was a bit optimistic when he indicated a 7-7 break even would be a pretty good season.

Don Klosterman, the general manager, had nothing more than hopes for improvement that would amount to a major step in a four-year rebuilding program.

Klosterman was called in early last year to start the reconstruction program after 6-8, 4-10, and 4-10 seasons had followed two AFL championships and a third Eastern Division title.

The defensive unit for the comeback Oilers jelled rather quickly, the 15 rookies performed amazingly well all season, and quarterback Pete Beathard began making the offense move after being acquired in October from Kansas City.

"I've been surprised but very, very pleased," Klosterman said. "When we began rebuilding we figured it would take about four years."

The Oilers gave up only 193 points all season, the first time any AFL defense has been under 200 points.

Knicks Lose Again for New Coach

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Red Holzman hasn't really begun work yet in his new job as coach of the New York Knicks. Yet, he's already one-half game worse off than when he took over.

That's because the streaking Cincinnati Royals beat the San Francisco Warriors 126-122 Thursday night. The triumph in reared the fourth-place Royals' lead over 10th-place New York to 2 1/2 games in the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division. Only the top four qualify for the postseason playoffs.

In the only other game, on matching expansion teams, the San Diego Rockets defeated the Seattle Super Sonics 143-125.

Holzman replaced Dick Motta as the Knicks' coach Wednesday after New York lost to Philadelphia, its third defeat against 15 victories.

The Royals picked up their 16th triumph and third in a row against 19 setbacks by edging the Warriors at Cleveland. Oscar Robertson led Cincinnati, tying his season high of 41 points. Guy Rodgers hit on two free throws with nine seconds left to clutch the victory.

The defeat ended San Francisco's five-game winning streak.

In the game at Seattle, the Rockets built up a 77-64 halftime lead and then stayed off second half rallies by the Super Sonics, who got 44 points from Walt Hazzard. Don Keys scored 21 and John Block 27 for San Diego.

In the American Association Thursday night, Dallas beat Indiana 127-125 in overtime. Minnesota downed New Orleans 115-101, Houston whipped Anaheim 104-93 and Denver defeated New Jersey, 119-102.

Sees Packers Football Takes Over TV During the Week end and Oakland in Big Bowl

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Writer
GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Green Bay and Oakland should meet in the Super Bowl Jan. 14 at Miami if form holds up in the two league championship games to be played Sunday.

The past records in the picking league and the won and lost figures don't mean a thing at this stage so let's toss them out the window and concentrate on the job at hand.

Both games will be played Sunday with national television coverage in a doubleheader that will call for a flick of the dial. The Green Bay-Dallas game at Green Bay for the National Football League title goes on first at 2 p.m., EST, and will be seen on CBS. The Oakland-Houston game at Oakland for the American Football League crown starts at 5 p.m., EST, with NBC coverage.

Here's the way it looks to the Hand picker, who went down with the Rams and won with the Cowboys last week:

Offense—Cowboys may have the edge over Packers with erratic Don Meredith apparently back on beam and runners like Dan Reeves, Don Perkins and young Craig Baynam plus receivers like Bob Hayes and Lance Rentzel. However, Bart Starr is winging the ball again and picking defenses apart like he did last year after a so-so season. Injuries forced Vince Lombardi to shuffle his thin crop of running backs, but he has a big winner in rookie Travis Williams, who can break it open any minute as a ball carrier or kickoff return whiz.

Packers' rebuilt offensive with Bob Hyland at center and gale Killingham at guard teamed up with veterans Forrest Gregg, Jerry Kramer and Bob Skoronski handled the Rams' Fearsome Foursome with room to spare last week. Dallas provides greater protection for Meredith with Ralph Neely having proved last year he could handle Willie Davis.

Defense—Up front the Cowboys' Doomsday Defense centers on tackle Bob Lilly with help from Willie Townes, Jethro Pugh and George Andrie. Packers front four of Willie Davis, Ron Kostelnik, Henry Jordan and Lionel Aldridge about even with Dallas. Linebackers of Packers are superior and Green Bay's deep defense is better.

Kicking—Don Chandler more consistent than Danny Villanueva on field goals, but season figures show Villanueva the edge over Donny Anderson in punting.

Summing it up, the Packers new find, Travis Williams, Starr's ability to read defense and veteran Green Bay defense and the home field edge in bitter cold weather suggest this score:

Green Bay 27, Dallas 17
AFL

Offense—Oakland has overcome loss of Clem Daniels' with a solid air game directed by Darvle Lamontea pitching to Hewitt Dixon and Billy Cannon. Oilers take it out along the ground with Woodie Campbell and Hoyle Granger doing the heavy work while Pete Deather and wings the ball. Houston's offensive line does a good job protecting its passer, but Lamontea often has to unload in a hurry.

Defense—Oilers have done superb job with fine first-year effort by linebacker George Webster. When two clubs met in regular season game Dec. 10, Raiders had to go to George Blanda for four field goals to pull it out in second half 19-7. A bruising battle up front, but Oakland's linebackers appear to have the edge. John Wittenborn not a Blanda in the field goal league where Raiders have made good 20 times.

Summing it up, Raiders are at home and Al Davis, the general manager and former AFL president, is itching to get shot at NFL in the Super Bowl. Superior offense against Wally Lemm's stingy Houston defense suggests this score:

Oakland 30, Houston 17.

Memorial Plans Run Aground

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Dallas County's plans to build a memorial to President John F. Kennedy have run aground again, this time on the New York bond market.

The $100,000 memorial to Kennedy, slain Nov. 22, 1963, two blocks from the proposed site, is to rest atop a $2.8 million, 190-car underground parking garage.

County officials had hoped to take bids on the garage project before the first of the year. But financial advisors are now counseling the delay of the sale of revenue bonds until the New York market promises lower interest rates.

Construction time for the garage, once the dirt starts flying, is estimated at 18 months.

Tremblays Go to Work, Things Happen

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Gilles Tremblay and Jean-Claude Tremblay of the Montreal Canadiens are not related. But, oh brother, did they take the stars out of the North Stars' eyes!

The Canadiens, uncharacteristically move up in struggling to the National Hockey League's East Division race, were trailing Minnesota 2-1 after one period Thursday night. Then, the Tremblays went to work. Jean-Claude, a defenseman, tied it at 2-2 after only 34 seconds of the second period. Gilles, a left winger, got hot later in the session. He scored three times within less than four minutes and powered Montreal to a 6-2 victory.

The Detroit Red Wings defeated the Philadelphia Flyers 5-3 in the only other game.

Gilles Tremblay's goals came at 14:03, 15:04 and 17:44 of the second session, lifting his season total to 11.

Power play goals by Mike Mahon and Parker MacDonald sandwiched around a score by Montreal's Claude Provost gave the North Stars a 2-1 lead in the opening period. John Ferguson of Montreal scored the game's final tally early in the third period.

Defenseman Gary Bergman was Detroit's star. He scored the final two goals of the game, the first snapping a 3-3 tie late in the second period and the second in the seventh minute of the third period.

Gordie Howe, Norm Ullman and Jimmy Peters scored the other Wings' goals while Claude Laforge had two tallies and Gary Dornhoefer one for Philadelphia.

Neither Janet nor Gary, who live in rural New Holland, was injured. She was charged with improper use of a lane.

Paradise Is Closing Down Saturday

By JUDY PRUSNEK
Associated Press Writer
PARADISE, Ky. (AP) — Paradise is closing down for good Saturday.

And if you ask Mrs. Carlos Smith why, she'll tell you she reckons the devil had a hand in it.

Saturday's the deadline the Tennessee Valley Authority has given the Smiths and two other families still living in the small Muhlenberg County community to move out.

The 40-odd acres, purchased plot by plot by the TVA this past year, are earmarked for a coal stockpile and future expansion of TVA's mammoth steam-electric plant nearby.

When completed, the plant will be the largest of its kind in the world. And few will remember what it was like in Paradise.

Some 800 persons had lived in the southern Kentucky spot long before the sand-like fallout from the plant's towering smokestacks began making life intolerable.

Some married into Paradise. Some were born there. Some came to retire along the quiet banks of the Green River. J.H. Buchanan, 66, was postmaster there for 28 years and had owned its only general store.

"Had a lot of good conversation in Paradise," he reminisced at his new home in Greenville. "Guess there wasn't too much I didn't know about the place."

Buchanan closed up the post office and sold out Thanksgiving before moving on. He alone knows how the community got its name.

"Oldtimers used to tell my grandpappy about a family coming up the river on a flat boat one day," he says. "They had a real sick baby. Thought he was gonna die sure."

"So they tied up next to shore that night and prayed. Next morning, the boy woke up well. Father said, 'This must be Paradise,' and they decided to stay."

Now, 170 years later, a cold December wind moans through the deserted streets.

Past the home of J. Hogg, 63, a retired widower, Hogg is moving his house 11 miles down river off Route 70.

"The place is no town yet. It's buildin'," he says. "But I'm not takin' my heart with me." Past the home of Mrs. Smith, 69, where her elderly husband lies bedridden, blind and deaf. "Lived here 50 years. Raised five sons," she says. "We aren't movin' far. The devil's behind all this movin' anyways. I know it. I know it."

Past the home of the two widows who've shut their doors to outsiders so long they remain nameless, even to Buchanan. For on Saturday, Paradise will belong to the wind.

Launching Scheduled January 17

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The space agency today officially set Jan. 17 as the target launching date for its first unmanned Lunar Module (The Type craft which is to land U.S. astronauts on the surface of the moon).

The bug-like vehicle, perched upon the same Saturn 1 rocket that was on a nearby launch pad when three astronauts died there in a spacecraft fire last Jan. 27, will be launched on an earth orbital exercise lasting about 6½ hours.

National Aeronautics and Space Administration officials said the primary objective of the mission, officially designated Apollo 5, "is to verify that the Lunar Module is ready for manned operations in space."

If successful, the test will flight qualify the main spacecraft propulsion engines and the Lunar Module's structural concept, NASA said.

When three American astronauts rocket to the moon, a similar Lunar Module is to ride through space attached to the nose of an Apollo spacecraft cabin section. After the joined vehicle swings into orbit around the moon, two astronauts are to enter the Lunar Module and pilot it to the moon's surface.

The two astronauts are to use the Lunar Module again to launch themselves from the surface and rendezvous with the orbiting Apollo cabin section for a return trip to earth.

Sorry, you'll have to wait until September to blame any of your troubles on Friday the 13th, but there's a Saturday the 13th in January, if that will be of any help.

Marriages Costing More

CARSON CITY, Nev. (AP) —
It will cost a little more to obtain a "quickie" marriage or divorce in Nevada, beginning Jan.

The state, which ranked fifth in the country last year in marriages performed, has a new law requiring county clerks to collect $1 more for marriage licenses. The additional levy also applies to divorce and annulment decrees. The marriage license fee jumps to $6.

Nevada does not require a waiting period or blood test for marriages. Last year 86,335 couples were married in the state.

NUCLEAR SPACE POWER may be represented in the future by power plants like this 22-foot mock-up of a NERVA (Nuclear Engine for Rocket Vehicle Application), displayed in Chicago recently by the Atomic Energy Commission. NERVA is the AEC's answer to the need for a single nuclear rocket engine that could provide continued thrust for a variety of upper stage and spacecraft chores. No Simple Cure Known For 'Noisy' Ligaments

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q—I am 64. Every time I turn my neck there is a painful cracking noise. What causes this and is there any cure for it?

A—Cracking in any joint is caused by the snapping of ligaments or tendons as the joint is moved. Although there is no simple cure for this condition, it helps to avoid turning your head quickly. Using a heating pad for 20 minutes two or three times a day should take some of the soreness out of your neck.

Q—What is meant by coxa valga? With this condition, can I have a child by natural childbirth?

A—In an adult, the neck of the femur forms an angle of about 125 degrees with the shaft of the bone. When this angle is increased (more nearly a straight line), a congenital condition called coxa valga exists. Of itself this would have no effect on childbirth.

Q—What is synovitis?

A—This is an inflammation of the membranous sheath that surrounds the tendons in Earthquakes and volcanoes have existed for over four billion years, says The World Almanac. Energy of a major earthquake is equivalent to that of thousands of atomic bombs. About 80 per cent of all quakes, and most volcanic eruptions, occur in a ring surrounding the Pacific Ocean, following generally the border between the continents and oceans where mountain-building processes are pronounced.

If it seems that we favor the simple direct bidding of 1931 Cubertson, don't really believe us. The early Cubertson system had lots to commend it, but there has been continual improvement in bidding over the years and even a beginner would be lost without some modern tools.

What we do believe is that you don't need to bid every hand as if you were trying for a Nobel prize in mathematics. You should bid as directly as possible toward the final contract.

South was an old-time rubber bridge player who despised all modern methods. Hence, his choice of a spade instead of a club as his opening bid. North was a scientist and decided to respond two clubs rather than three diamonds which would have been our choice.

South might have raised clubs immediately. Cubertson would have, but South wanted to show both his major suits. Then, when North bid three diamonds, South went to three no-trump. As he explained later, his hand wasn't good enough to go past that level. North raised his partner to six no-trump.

West opened the jack of diamonds. South took dummy's ace and led out the king. East showed out and South went into a five minute huddle before discarding a club from his hand. The rest of the play went slowly but South, whose dummy play isn't the least bit antiquated, managed to bring home the contract. At trick three he led a low diamond. West won and played a diamond back. Now South cashed the ace and king of spades and ran off all the clubs.

He came down to the ace-queen of hearts as his two last cards while dummy held a heart and a diamond and West had to blank his king of hearts. Then he refused the heart finesse and plucked that blank king.

"Beautiful, just beautiful," murmured North. "Too bad you never raised clubs. I would have made a grand slam without any worries at all in the play."

(Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)

♥ CARD Sense ♦

Q—The bidding in the following hand is correct. What is the best lead?

A—Pass is first choice. If you have an exceptionally conservative partner you might actually bid four clubs.

The New Year:
America Will Make Out

This is the time when it is customary to write something about the advent of a new year. What about 1968? It will be with us Monday, and that's all we know for sure.

Forecasting is a pretty futile business—like trying to win a war all at once. Mankind usually gets farther up the road by fighting each battle as he comes to it, trusting to his cumulative effort to bring eventual success. America is a lucky land. And for all his pessimistic writings on day-to-day skirmishes your editor is an optimist on the long haul. I am reminded of what Ralph Waldo Emerson said:

"The years teach much which the days never know."
This was a very young nation when the crusty New Englander said that a century ago, but his meaning becomes ever more clear as the years go by.

When we were young we tried many things, some that worked and some that didn't. Usually we had good luck with tasks on the home front. But this generation has in frustration and doubt as America's sphere became worldwide and brought us into collision with the conflicting views of other peoples.

These have been the "teaching" years Emerson speaks of, and they have brought valuable experience and re-molded wisdom to the American people for the days ahead.

We wouldn't be Americans if we didn't face 1968 with both confidence and caution.

Miami's Get Tough Policy Is Hailed

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Florida Gov. Claude Kirk says he supports Police Chief Walter Headley's new "get tough" program in Miami's Negro neighborhoods which was instituted after an outbreak of violent crime in slum areas.

Meanwhile, civil rights leaders said they would protest the program and lawyers for the American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU) said they planned court action against Headley.

Kirk said Thursday "Police Chief Headley has been forced to instruct his men to use whatever force necessary to stop criminals who have demonstrated time and again that they are ready to use knives, bludgeons and guns against their helpless victims."

"Let every criminal and every potential criminal understand now that officers of the law will deal with him with renewed determination," the Republican governor said.

Marvin Davies, state field director for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said he would lead a group of the state's top NAACP officials planning to attend a city commission meeting today where Headley is to explain his new program.

Davies has said he would demand Headley's suspension "until his attitude changes."

Many Without Electricity

BELLPORT, N.Y. (AP) — A power failure left about 100 homes without electricity for about 1½ hours Thursday evening, the Long Island Lighting Co. said.

The company said the reason for the blackout was a heavy holiday demand including in part the use of appliances received as Christmas presents.

Cows Rescued by Coast Guard

HONOLULU (AP) — To the rescue of two cows came the U.S. Coast Guard.

A 40-foot Coast Guard boat picked up the first swimming heifer Thursday, and the tender Ironwood plucked the other with a cargo net.

What were the cows doing swimming in Honolulu harbor? The Coast Guard says it appears they wanted a cooling dip to break the monotony of barge travel between Molokai and Kauai islands. They were in Honolulu briefly for feeding.

Riots Will Continue, Study Shows

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Riots by Negroes in Northern cities "will continue until the well of available cities runs dry," a psychologist declared today.

Explosive violence born of frustrations in Negro ghettos will go on, said Dr. T.M. Tomlinson, unless:

— Massive funds, at least $20 to $25 billions, are made available to combat poverty and other intolerable living conditions. He said this "would not happen in an election year."

— White society demonstrates its "faith in the concept of Negro equality. Negroes have lost faith. They no longer believe that whites will allow them to take their place in this society regardless of what they might do by way of 'proving themselves.'"

— Negroes are given the chance to organize around economic and political projects that allow all Negroes "to pursue the constructive goals of political and economic power."

Dr. Tomlinson, now with the Office of Economic Opportunity in Washington, was teaching at the University of California at Los Angeles when the 1965 Los Angeles riot erupted, and was a co-investigator soon afterward of its causes.

That study, plus some from other riot-torn cities, shows that many whites still entertain dangerous myths, he told the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

The myths, he said, are that few Negroes take part in riots—that few sympathize with rioters—that most Negroes regard riots as haphazard and meaningless—that Negroes expect and are afraid of white retaliation and a worsening of interracial relationships.

The Los Angeles riot in Watts "had the purpose of letting the whites know 'how it is' for Negroes," Dr. Tomlinson said. "It took the lid off by discharging a riot response to the conditions of Negro life that had always existed," and riots now "have assumed the shape of a popular movement."

Swallowed Tooth Brush

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Enrique Monreal, 23, of El Paso underwent surgery Thursday after swallowing a tooth brush.

"It's all because I like to brush my teeth way back in my mouth," he said.

Scientists Discover No Sex Revolution, Old Trends Existing

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Scientists today presented findings from new studies of human sexual behavior, listing among general conclusions:

— There has been "no sexual revolution" strictly speaking, rather more a continuation of long existing trends.

— College coeds continue to equate their first sexual intercourse with love, whereas men continue to be opportunistic.

— There is a definite trend, especially among young women, for the first sexual intercourse to be a pleasurable event.

— Newer contraceptive devices do NOT seem to have prompted any rise in the percentage of women having intercourse before marriage.

— Use of birth control devices doesn't seem to lead to increased sexual activity so much as to increased enjoyment.

The scientists addressed a session of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Dr. Paul H. Gebhard, director of the Institute for Sex Research at Indiana University founded by the late Dr. Alfred C. Kinsey, described first results from a 1967 survey among nearly 1,200 men and women in colleges across the nation, compared with findings from similar questioning of about as many college students in the 1940's and early 1950's—a generation or nearly

Even Housewives Are Not Sure Just How Much They Are Worth

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — How much, in dollars and cents, is the American housewife really worth?

The Agriculture Department is considering trying to find out in hopes of determining whether working wives really mean profit for the family coffers.

The housewives have their own ideas—and they vary widely. "I'd be worth about $500 a week," said one woman. "About $50 weekly," estimated another.

"I think it's silly to even try to put a value on a housewife," scoffed a third.

Most of the women responding to an Associated Press survey estimated a housewife's value on the basis of what it would cost to hire an outsider to perform her chores.

"A maid of eight hours costs about $10 or more," said Mrs. Hugh Savage of Kansas City, Mo., the mother of two. "And you should add $6 for the extras," including meal planning, clothes buying, serving as hostess and carrying out community obligations, she said.

Mrs. Albert Jensen of Chicago, the mother of two, who said her husband told her she was worth $1,000 a month, figured it would cost "about $600 a month" to hire a nurse for their son. In addition, she said, her husband would have to pay someone for the cooking, cleaning and laundry.

Several years ago, the Chas-

Manhattan Bank figured that at the going rates for all the jobs under the title "housewife," the average woman should get $159.34 a week. That included such estimates as 3.3 hours of food shopping a week at $1.50 an hour and 13.1 hours of cooking a week at $2.50 an hour.

Mrs. William Pichler, 45, of Miami, the mother of two, said "just off the top of my head I'd say over $50," then added, "you'd better make that about $150 a week."

Mrs. Pichler, a registered nurse before her marriage, said she would prefer to hold an outside job. "It was far more gratifying," she said.

Mrs. Rita Kellard of Brooklyn, the mother of three, also would prefer to hold an outside job, but she said it was more gratifying to stay home.

"You don't get any salary at home," said Mrs. Kellard, who felt she was worth "at least $3 an hour" for a 12-hour day, seven days a week. "But to see your children happy is more rewarding. You never see a boss happy."

A much more modest momentary appraisal came from Mrs. Justine Paul, 25, of Santa Monica, Calif., a bride of less than one year. "I just don't do a whole lot around the house," said Mrs. Paul, explaining she thought she would be worth about $30 a week.

A television interviewer before her marriage, Mrs. Paul said she'd prefer not to work. "I'd rather be taken care of," she said.

Meat Inspection Act Is Signed

DOVER, Del. (AP) — Delaware Gov. Charles Terry has signed into law the state's first meat inspection act.

The meat inspection bill will go into effect in six months, but meanwhile $52,660 was appropriated to the State Board of Agriculture so it can set up the machinery for enforcing the new law.

375 Cong Killed Since Truce Ended

By GEORGE MCARTHUR
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — Two U.S. Air Force Canberra bombers mistakenly strafed a company of South Vietnamese irregulars locked in a jungle fight with the Viet Cong Thursday, killing four of the irregulars and wounding 32 and two American advisers, the U.S. Command announced.

U.S. Command said the South Vietnamese force was battling a Viet Cong force in the jungled coastlands of Binh Thuan Province about 125 miles northeast of Saigon.

The B57 Canberras were called in to give supporting fire and dipped down with blazing 20mm cannon and 50-caliber machine guns. The ground action against the Viet Cong apparently was broken off as the shattered South Vietnamese unit, called a civilian irregular defense group, pulled back with its casualties.

The heaviest engagement Thursday pitted a force of more than 1,000 South Vietnamese against a Communist battalion in Quang Nam Province, the sensitive sector surrounding the big base of Da Nang. The South Vietnamese reported killing 52 Red troops, raising to more than 375 the number of enemy dead claimed by the allies in three days of fighting in the coastal lowlands since the end of the brief Christmas truce.

Cuban Fish Vessels Are Subversive

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Coast Guard reports it has received indications Cuban fishing vessels have been used frequently to land subversive agents in Central and South American countries.

The rapid growth and expansion in activities of the Cuban fishing fleet was discussed by Coast Guard officers at a closed hearing of the Senate internal security subcommittee.

A transcript of the June 25 session, with classified material deleted, was made public today. The hearing was one in a series on "Communist Threat to the United States Through the Caribbean."

Cndr. J. W. E. Ward of the Coast Guard told the subcommittee his branch was quite concerned with Cuban maritime activities for reasons that included "all the indications we have that the Cuban fishing fleet has been used on many occasions to infiltrate subversive agents and arms and munitions into the various Central and South American countries."

Storm Buries Inland Areas in Snow

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A wind-driven snowstorm swept through the Northeast today, burying many inland sections in knee-deep snow and pelting some fringe areas with rain, sleet and freezing rain.

The storm extended into New England after a quick sweep across the South Thursday.

The Virginia highlands and western Maryland were hobbled by up to a foot and a half of snow. North-western Pennsylvania and northern Upstate New York were pelted with foot-deep snows during the night.

Gale warnings flew along the Atlantic Coast and the brisk winds ranged far inland. Travelers warnings were in effect for a wide area.

The Weather Bureau indicated the snow piled up at the rate of an inch an hour in parts of Pennsylvania, New York and New England through the night. Depths of 8 to 9 inches were common from the Virginias northeastward into Maine.

The game between Hope and Texarkana, scheduled for tonight, has been called off, Coach Joe Austin announced.

Big-Power Threat in Asia Could Bring New International Talks

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

A threat of big-power conflict in Southeast Asia seems to be growing, and if it gets more serious it could bring about a new international conference.

Soviet and Red Chinese statements predict escalation of the Vietnam war through U.S. invasion of Laos and Cambodia, as if reflecting fear this will happen. The United States deplores use of Cambodia by the Viet Cong as sanctuary from American pursuit. There are reports of a Communist buildup and increased activity in Laos.

All this is familiar and ominous. The imminence of a big-power showdown had much to do with the convocation of an international conference five years ago on the Laotian situation. It could happen again, perhaps this time including talks on the Vietnam struggle.

The record indicates that the Laotian situation in the early 60s was so dangerous that a conference was the only safe way out. The alternative might have been a confrontation and even war among the big powers. A similar situation seems to be building up now.

Though overshadowed by the magnitude of the Vietnam war to its east, Laos poses a smoldering danger of escalation. Students of Southeast Asian affairs speculate that Laos is so important that if there had been no war in Vietnam there surely would have been one in the neighbor state, possibly more perilous from the standpoint of international complications.

Laos is a gateway to Burma and Thailand and a potential key to mastery of all Southeast Asia.

In 1960, said a later British parliamentary review of Laos, "It was clear that the conflict could easily assume international dimensions and that decisive action must be taken to avert this danger."

Laos demonstrated then that international action was possible, even though the whole story of the major powers' collaboration in Indochina was a study in frustration, and arrangements to deal with the dangers were so full of holes as to be nearly meaningless.

Communist designs on all of Indochina seemed clear at the time of the 1954 Geneva conference which partitioned Vietnam. Ho Chi Minh's North Vietnamese regime demanded recognition in Cambodia for the Communist-led "Free Khmer" forces and in Laos for the Neo Lao Hak Xat, political arm of the Pathet Lao forces.

The Geneva agreements required Ho's Viet Minh to withdraw from Laos. Pending settlement, the Pathet Lao was supposed to be restricted to two northern provinces, Phong Saly and Sam Neua. The United States and South Vietnam did not sign the agreements. Hanoi

President Johnson's advisers are reported split on whether the United States should use "hot pursuit" and search-and-destroy tactics against the enemy hideouts beyond the South Vietnamese borders.

Some State Department and other civilian officials say privately they believe the cost would be too high in terms of worldwide political reaction, but military men say the problem will have to be met.

The dominant Washington view at the moment appears to be that if Secretary of State Dean Rusk cannot get a diplomatic solution—at a minimum some understanding with the government of Prince Norodom Sihanouk in Cambodia—President Johnson will have to decide in the first months of the new year what U.S. military action may be taken.

U.S. Wants Talks With Cambodia

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is expected to accept promptly Prince Norodom Sihanouk's indirect suggestion of U.S.-Cambodian talks over the issue of Communist Vietnamese use of Cambodia as a sanctuary.

Cambodia's chief of state, describing his country as "caught between the hammer and the anvil," said he would welcome an envoy from the President to discuss the situation. Speedy dispatch of such a U.S. spokesman appeared likely.

Sihanouk's statements were published today in a copyrighted Washington Post story based on his replies Thursday to questions posed by Post correspondent Stanley Karnow.

In response to other questions put by Karnow, in a cable, Sihanouk said he would not intervene militarily to stop U.S. troops from entering certain sections of Cambodia in so-called hot pursuit of North Vietnamese or Viet Cong forces.

U.S. officials were reported surprised and pleased with this statement, which came only a week after the prince spurned a U.S. bid for joint efforts to stop Vietnamese Communist use of neighboring Cambodia as a sanctuary.

At that time, Sihanouk denounced the United States and all but branded it an aggressor in Southeast Asia.

Speculation was Johnson most likely would send Averell Harriman, U.S. ambassador-at-large, to talk with Sihanouk. In the interview, Sihanouk made clear he also would welcome Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, whom he described as a "just and courageous man."

But he said if large Communist units are in fact entering Cambodia "and if limited combat breaks out between American and Vietnamese forces, both illegally in Cambodia, it goes without saying that we would not intervene militarily."

While stating he wouldn't send Cambodian forces against troops crossing his border in hot pursuit actions, Sihanouk added:

"However, if serious incursions or bombings are committed against our border regions inhabited by Cambodians. . . I declare very clearly that we would not hesitate to strike back as strongly as possible with aircraft, tanks and infantry."

And in the case of aggression, he said, Cambodia would demand increased military aid from Red China and the Soviet Union "in particular."

He said Cambodia would not tolerate the crossing of its borders by troops from South Vietnam, which he called "our traditional expansionist enemy."

He said he had learned the "Pentagon is considering the employment of the Saigon army for eventual incursions into our country."

Despite Sihanouk's expressed doubts, U.S. officials believe Communist troops by the thousands make periodic use of Cambodia as a sanctuary.

The use of these sanctuaries is viewed in Washington as a matter of major military importance.
